

Over the last few weeks my class and I read your book ♦How could You?. In my opinion, it was amazing!♦ I don♦t remember a boring part. You captured the attitude of a teenager perfectly. Everything was so clear in my head it was like watching a reality show. Whenever I would read a chapter of your book I wanted to read the next one, just to see what was going to happen next. As I read this book it certainly had me thinking, about how things don♦t always go the way you want, and if you choose to have premarital sex be very careful. Our teacher was telling us about how the first title for the story was ♦Mother How Could You? Personally I like ♦How Could You♦ I think the first one is a little to reviling. You are truly an amazing author! Sincerely, Zanoni
