

Mr. Lawsen drives semi-trucks for a living. ♦ Once a year he is allowed to take a family member with him for a weekend trip. ♦ This year it is Sean's turn to go and is he excited. ♦ The trip begins and ends in Fontana, California, but goes to Nevada and Arizona. It is before 9/11 and semi-trucks are allowed to drive across Hoover Dam. Sean is amazed at the size and how the dam produces electricity. Sharing SEAN'S SPECIAL RIDE with his dad, Sean learns big-rig drivers have more responsibility than just driving.